Residential Care in New Mills, Derbyshire

Welcome to Phoenix House

Set in the heart of New Mills, Phoenix House is a sociable home where people build independence and enjoy shared moments in a supportive community. ☆

Phoenix House is a welcoming six-bed residential home set across four thoughtfully designed floors, creating a balance of comfort and connection.

Bright, open-plan living areas bring people together, with a large kitchen and dining space at the heart of the home, alongside two relaxed lounges for shared moments or quiet time.

Each bedroom includes an en-suite shower room, offering privacy and independence, while a shared bathroom provides choice for those who enjoy a relaxing soak in the bath.

Outside, a spacious garden links Phoenix House with neighbouring involve homes, creating a wider community feel. The summer house offers a peaceful retreat, and the garden regularly becomes a hub of activity - especially during the much-loved annual festival.

Support is shaped by our Strive model, where every day is built around what matters most to each person. Through meaningful relationships and tailored support, people are encouraged to grow in confidence, build independence and live a life that feels truly their own.
