

Cavendish House

Residential Care in Redhill, Surrey

Welcome to Cavendish House

At Cavendish House, lively days and quieter moments sit comfortably side by side, with personalised residential care helping adults with learning disabilities, autism and complex needs feel at home. ☆

Cavendish House is a residential care home full of character, where people are supported to live active, happy lives.

Set across three floors, the home has five en-suite bedrooms and a self-contained annex, offering a balance of shared living and personal space throughout. A welcoming kitchen-diner brings people together, while the comfortable lounge, sensory room and quiet spaces create places to connect or unwind.

Outside, the large two-tiered garden and patio make room for barbecues, picnics and sunny afternoons together.

A consistent team provides 24-hour support, shaped around each person through Strive, our model of support. Alongside this, our in-house PBS team, in collaboration with MDTs, bring specialist expertise, with trauma-informed practice helping people feel understood and safe to live life at their own pace.

This is ideal for...

- A sociable adult with learning disabilities and/or autism.
- Someone who enjoys shared activities and community outings.
- A person who values routine alongside choice and independence
- Someone likely to enjoy living with sociable housemates.
- A person who benefits from sensory support and calm spaces.

A space to pause

Our dedicated sensory room offers a calming place to pause, regulate and unwind, creating space for quieter moments whenever they're needed.

Supporting people to flourish in a place they call home

At involve, we do more than meet people's needs - we help them thrive. That's why we created Strive: our unique model of care, designed to support active, fulfilling lives.

Strive is how we turn good care into great lives. It's the involve way - proactive, positive and co-produced. But what does that look like? It's different for everyone - but it's always rooted in confidence, relationships and community.
