Clarence Court

Complex Supported Living in Barnsley

Welcome to Clarence Court

Clarence Court is a thoughtfully designed supported living home, offering self-contained bungalows for adults with complex needs, blending independence, accessibility and specialist support in Barnsley.

Clarence Court is a purpose-built supported living home in Barnsley, designed to offer both privacy and reassurance in a homely environment.

The property contains four spacious, self-contained bungalows in one block, and two additional self-contained single occupancy apartments, each with their own entrance, garden and parking space, within a quiet cul-de-sac.

Every home is accessible, including for wheelchair users, and finished to a high specification that supports comfort and independence. Two on-site colleague bases enable responsive, consistent support, delivered by a skilled team experienced in complex learning disabilities, autism and associated needs.

Support at Clarence Court is guided by our Strive model of care, focusing on stability, choice and meaningful outcomes.

Care and support is community-based and reviewed often so it adapts as people's needs change over time.

This is ideal for...

- Adults with complex learning disabilities seeking calm, independent living
- Autistic people that need low-arousal, predictable environments
- Individuals requiring significant, consistent daily support
- People who value privacy with reassurance of nearby support
- Those compatible with quiet neighbours and structured routines

Designed for independence

Fully accessible, self-contained homes that promote choice, privacy and confidence, with specialist support close by whenever it's needed.
